To Connect at Mitchell's.

In reply to a letter to me regarding the variety of the clipping from the Courier-Journal on page two, fifth column, this issue, the news has received the following from the Hartford Republican:

"We have interviewed parties connected with the above railroad proposition and as best we can inform ourselves the above clipping is substantially correct. They tell us that it was at first intended that the road should run via of Fordsville to Cloverport but they met with such poor encouragement from the people at Fordsville that it has been practically decided to connect at Mitchell's Station. No time has been fixed for beginning work."

Mitchell's Station is the first station east of Fordsville on the Lexington branch of the Henderson Route.

Democrat has a Breakdown.

The Breckenridge Democrat has had a breakdown of its press and only a small sheet was gotten out this week. Editor Pile telephoned us that the issue next week will be the regular size and on time.

MOST SUCCESSFUL COUNTY EVER HAD

Was the Last Teachers' Institute at Hardinsburg and Instructor, Prof. Evans, Was Best, Too.

Hardinsburg, Ky., July 4.—(Special).—The Breckenridge county teachers' institute held here last week, with Prof. Charles Evans, of Marion, as instructor, was the most successful ever conducted here. The attendance was good, the teachers took an active part, and Sept. 1st, a great interest in the work of the institute. Prof. Evans delivered several most scholarly and instructive addresses, attracting many audience besides the teachers. The general opinion was that he was the best instructor ever heard here.

On Wednesday evening, Prof. Collins, the new principal of the Hardinsburg school, gave a reading to a large audience in the court house and made a favorable impression. Miss Louise Bester sang several selections during the evening which were freely applauded.

The graduating exercises of those pupils who had been examined for diplomas for completing the common school studies, were held at the opera house on Thursday evening. Those receiving diplomas were: Miss Ida Kennedy; Harned; Edison Gibson; Mrs. Alexander; Hook and O'Reilly, "the farmers' picnic," the principal feature was an address on the plans and methods of handling the present crops by Hon. H. B. Sherman, national organizer of the American Society of Equity, the man who is said to know more about the principles and workings of this organization than any other man in America. A brass band from Tell City furnished music at this barbecue and a dancing floor and string band were among the attractions.

A merry-go-round was one of the best attractions at the Red Men's barbecue and one that coined much money. A parade in the morning was one of the features. Good music was furnished by the Hardinsburg military band.

The proceeds of the barbecue, or pow-wow, the fourth given by Iron-dear Tribe No. 38, Improved Order of of Measles in Jail.

Monday's Louisville Post stated that William Lampton, a farmer of Constantine, this county, died Sunday night in the Jefferson county jail, where he had been confined on charges violating the internal revenue laws. He was 36 years of age and leaves a wife and several children. Death was due to a complication of disease following an attack of measles.

Lampton was incarcerated in the Jefferson county jail on the morning of July 1. Later in the day it was found that he had "measles." The remains were shipped to Constantine for burial, the Post says.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyemel Goes to the Root of the Disease and makes Astonishing Cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyemel is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectively drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Thousands of testimonials have been given as to the astonishing cures made by this remedy.

Mrs. Le Gendt, 706 Western Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, writes: "I am better now than I have been in thirty years. Many doctors, both in England and France, treated me for catarrh, but I was not cured until I used Hyemel."

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of the new catarrh is the fact that Sherrill & Hayes will agree to refund the money if you say Hyemel has not cured you.

The complete Hyemel outfit costs $1.00, consisting of an Inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyemel to last several weeks. This will effect a cure in ordinary cases, but for chronic and deep-seated cases of catarrh, longer ones may be necessary, and then extra bottles of Hyemel can be obtained for 50¢.

WEDNESDAY, July 5, 1905.

Owensboro Tobacco Convention. (Up-To-Date Farming.)

This convention will be composed of the leading tobacco men in each tobacco district in the United States. Each one of the 130 counties producing more than one million pounds should have a representative in attendance. This is to be the most important meeting of tobacco men ever held, and promises much for the men who plant tobacco.

The little city of Owensboro will extend a royal welcome, and the tobacco producing business is to be put on a sure and solid foundation.

At this convention the following facts will be ascertained and made public. The amount of each class and grade of tobacco consumed annually; the amount in the hands of dealers and manufacturers; the amount in the hands of the farmers; the prices paid by the consumers; the cost of manufacture and handling tobacco; the profits secured by each class of dealers and handlers; the amount required for consumption during the succeeding year. With these facts before them it will not be difficult for the representatives of the tobacco growers to say what each class and grade is worth.

After this is done the delegates will turn their attention to ways and means of grading, storing and holding tobacco, and will provide for all emergencies. Steps will be taken to finish the work of organization at once.

Delegates to this convention should be chosen and qualified not later than August 15th. These delegates should be chosen in time to make complete reports of the conditions in their county, the amount of tobacco produced, its grade, quality, etc.

Indigestion Cured.

There is no case of Indigestion, Dyspepsia or Stomach Troubles that will not yield to the digestive and strengthening influence of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

This remedy takes the strain off the stomach by digesting what you eat and allowing it to rest until you get better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get I was bent double, and had to lie down every night when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electo Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful.

Hancock Oil Company Assigns.

There was filed for record in the Hancock county clerk's office a deed of assignment from the Indiana and Kentucky Oil Company, organized under the laws of the Territory of Arizona to the Louisville Trust Company.

This company has a well across the river on the Floyd Mason farm, about our miles above Caneletton, and has thousands of acres under lease in Hancock county. Just above the city there was erected recently a derrick, with all necessary machinery for boring, but actual work never began.

The deed of assignment does not hint at financial troubles of any kind, but merely asserts that the assignment is made for the best interests of the company. It also states that the general equipment of the company is to be sold, and after the payment of any just claims the money is to be proportioned among the stockholders.

The work in hand has been under the supervision of L. S. Powers & Co., Judge Wampler being actively engaged.—Hancock Citizen.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one, for four weeks, when I was sick with typhoid and nearly trout," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburgh, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get I was bent double, and had to lie down every night when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electo Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful."

To Decide on Barbecue Date.

Chas. B. Skillman says the Masons will decide on the date of their fourth annual barbecue at the next regular meeting, Friday evening, July 5. The barbecue will be given the latter part of August.

The annual barbecues given by the Masons have been the biggest successes, in point of attendance and financial results, of the kind in the country. They will put forth every effort to make the barbecue this year eclipse those in the past three years.

Three Good and Just Reasons.

There are three reasons why mothers prefer One Minute Cough Cure. First, It is absolutely harmless. Second, It tastes good—children love it. Third, It cures Coughs, Croup and Whooping Cough when other remedies fail. Sold by All Druggists.

Rev. Newsom's Great Success.

The scores of friends here of Rev. J. T. Newsom, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., the evangelist who conducted the big revival at the Methodist church in February and March, will be glad to learn that he is continuing his great work in the South, where he recently closed a meeting at Paducah with 100 conversions, and he is now holding one at Guthrie, at which the congregations have been so large that the church has been found too small to hold them, and the opera house is now being used.

To Give Big Barbecue in 1906.

On July 4, 1906, a big barbecue and picnic will be given at Hardinsburg by W. N. Pate, of Mattingly, and John O'Riley and Jubal Hook, of Hardinsburg. It will be given on the turnpike, near Hardinsburg, at the same place where the big barbecue was given yesterday by W. N. Pate, Huse Alexander, John O'Riley and Jubal Hook. Mr. Alexander being the only member of this popular picnic firm who will not be interested in the barbecue next year.

Half Crop in Hancock.

Mr. Andrew Jackson, a very successful tobacco raiser, of Chambers, in Hancock County, was in the city yesterday with his crop which he sold. He says the Hancock crop will be shorter than ever before and will not average more than half a crop. He says the dry weather out the crop down but that the growers are thoroughly disgusted with their experience in raising tobacco for little pay and that they are determined to quit profiting large crops, at least for a time.—Owensboro Inquirer.

KENTUCKY.

Kentucky, O. Kentucky.
Love your bluegrass ways,
Your girl's matchless beauty,
And your glee when sunny days
With longhorns bloom.

Reminding me of childhood
And the sweets of long ago.

Kentucky, O. Kentucky.
Wherever I may stray,
I'll always give devotion,
Your girl's hair gray.

And longhorns bloom.

Reminding me of childhood
And the sweets of long ago.

Kentucky, O. Kentucky.
No other land or scene,
Can compare to your circumference,
And the love-lit golden dome.

That I possess amidst your bowers,

With glorious girls and boys,

In contrasted pleasure.

And infinite joys.

Kentucky, O. Kentucky.
In the pastures of fair

Youth shine among the millions.

And are always "getting there." Heroine is your manner.

To trath, love and art,

A commonwealth of glory.

With a royal hand and heart.

Kentucky, O. Kentucky!

When I draw my latest breath,
I only crave the pleasure

To go to thee in death.

And if no other heaven

Shall shine for me.

I'll be content forever

If my drink be mixed with thee.

John A. Joyce, in the Cattleburg Daily Press.

Meets at Louisville Next.

The International Sunday School convention will meet in Louisville in 1906. This was decided by a big vote at the convention at Toronto, Canada, last week. The Kentucky city was given an ovation. The Rev. Dr. Hemphill and the Rev. Gorde G. Ogden presented the claims of the city by the Ohio falls to the delegates, and "My Old Kentucky Home" was sung.

After that it was all over, and there was nothing else to it but Louisville. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested by the delegates when the selection was announced.

An Utterance of Deep Feeling.

We take this means of expressing our deep gratitude to Dr. Frank L. Smith, who has so nobly and disinterestedly helped us care for our loved ones during his long and fatal illness. We wish to especially tender our thanks to those two faithful servants, Drs. R. T. Dempster and J. E. Kuchelos, who used their unquestionable skill to prolong his precious life.

His devoted wife and loving sister,

Mary Lynch,
Katie McCabe.

To Set Date for Tent Meetings.

At the next Fifth Sunday ministers' meeting of the Breckenridge Association of Baptists, the last of July, dates will be set for tent meetings at Norton's Valley and Roberts' Bottom, to be conducted by Rev. E. B. English this summer. These tent meetings were provided for at the last Fifth Sunday meeting of the Breckenridge Association.

Barge Launched.

T. F. Sawyer launched a barge last week which he built from lumber composing the hull of a large coal barge which was caught here in the ice last winter and which he bought from the Consolidated Coal & Coke company. The barge was built on the river bank just below H. L. Morton & Son's saw-mill.

J. E. Keith Hand Mash'd.

White J. E. Keith and son, Proctor Keith, were at Rose, Ind., Friday erecting a monument, the former had his right hand badly mashed by being caught under a stone. He returned home Friday evening and had it dressed by Dr. Simons. The member availed to almost twice its natural size and the injury was very painful. He will not be able to use it much for some time.

THOUGHTS.

"I fully endorse Dr. Johnson's sentiment that anything which teaches us the value of our own powers, which shows us it is possible to do what we had hitherto thought impossible, is of the utmost value." —President Schurman, of Cornell.

Printers, like other people, enjoy an outing once a year. This explains why the News is one day late.

The crowd at Hardinsburg Tuesday was estimated at 4,000 to 5,000 people and it said to its credit and to the credit of the community it was sober and orderly.

It was a glorious Fourth. Ideal weather conditions prevailed and everybody took advantage of it for an outing. The crowd at Hardinsburg was simply an overflow. Both picnics had about all they could do.

WHAT THE NATION NEEDS.

The Breckenridge News calls especial attention to the following sentences taken from President Roosevelt's speech at Harvard:

"If in the public mind the career of the scholar is regarded as of insignificant value when compared with that of a glorified pawn broker—and some of the most conspicuous of our financial magnates come fairly within the latter category—then it will be difficult to make attractive to the most vigorous and gifted of our American young men."

"In business at the present day nothing could be more healthy than an immense reduction in the money value of the exceptional prizes to be won; but in scholarship what is needed is the reverse."

"So far as the alumni have weight I hope to see that weight felt in a serious and sustained effort against the growing tendency to luxury and in favor of all that makes for democratic conditions."

"This nation never stood in greater need than now of having among its leaders men of lofty ideals, which they try to live up to and not merely to talk of."

"It is far more important that they (men of vast fortunes) should conduct their business affairs decently than that they should spend the surplus of their fortunes in philanthropy."

"Every man of great wealth who runs his business with cynical contempt for those prohibitions of the law, which by hired cunning he can escape or evade, is a menace to our community, and the community is not to be excused if it does not develop a spirit which actually frowns on and discourages him."

"A great lawyer who employs his talents and his learning in the highly remunerative task of enabling a very wealthy client to over ride or circumvent the law is doing all that in him lies to encourage the growth in this country of a spirit of dumb anger against all law and of disbelief in their efficacy."

Mr. Roosevelt speaks to the point. He is a man that never speaks but what it means something. Whether it is spoken to Harvard graduates, or to the undergraduates, or to the common people there is a lesson for all of us. What we want in this country, in this county of Breckenridge, is a higher standard of citizenship, in business, in morals, in politics, in religion, in every walk of life. And these words of Mr. Roosevelt burn with that spirit. Let us get in touch with what he says, live it and act in our own lives.

Make your word good. Make it good with your meat man, your grocer and your home paper. Paying promptly is the life of business and this applies to news-paper as well as to your meat man, your grocer, or your bank. The newspaper man can't run without money any more than any other business man. He has to collect what is due him just like other people. If you owe your news-paper don't get mad if the editor wants his money and sends in his bill with request to remit. You don't know how it is with him. Perhaps he hasn't as much capital as you think he has, and he needs money to pay his hands and his paper bill. Labor don't wait, neither do the paper men. They both shut down on him if he fails to pay promptly. And this is why the paper man like other men sends out his bills. It's just a matter of business. So don't get mad. Why bless your dear souls, if we were to get mad every time a man sent in his bill we would be in the asylum right now.

Our banks are all right. All of them are in good condition. Some have more money than the others and that's all right, too. They all can't have the same. Some are older, some are more enterprising and make greater efforts for business and some have the knack of getting it just like some merchants. But the main thing with our banks is, they are all prosperous and are making a little better showing every year. Their business is growing and this speaks well for the community. Banks are an index to the business of the county. If the people are prosperous it shows in the bank statements. In the six banks whose statements appear in this issue there is on deposit $45,550.01 and it all belongs to the people of Breckenridge county. We remember the time when we had only one bank and when the deposits run up to $100,000.00 we thought that was a big lot of money for Breckenridge county. Now it is more than five times as much and yet some of us are not happy; we want more.

The Bank of Hardinsburg is one of the eleven banks in Kentucky whose surplus and undivided profits equal the capital stock. In the light of the fact that there are four hundred and twenty banks in the State and that several score of these are in larger towns and cities than Hardinsburg, this is a remarkable showing and a most excellent indication of the large and profitable business being done by this well-

Operating Car on Main Line.

The Clermont Water, Light & Ice Company is operating an ice car on the main line of the Henderson Route, the car attached to a freight train, making trips between West Point and Lewiston Tuesdays and Fridays. The car was first sent out from the company's ice factory here last Friday. Engle Goff has charge of the car.

Agencies have been established for the company by Ed Gregory at West Point and a Mr. Lewis and every town between these points, of any consequence, as well as at Maco and Watertown, west of Lewiston. The company's agents at Brandenburg and Irvington and perhaps other points will handle ice in carload lots, but the shippers' stations on the Henderson route will be supplied altogether from the ice car twice a week—Watertown and Hawesville and "West Point, though at the ends of the car's route, are the largest consumers of the local company's ice.

It is thought that the ice factory will soon have a large business in a few weeks and will be taxed to its capacity to supply the demand.

A. L. Fort, the manager of the factory, says his company will probably build its own ice houses at Hardinsburg, on the branch, and the large towns on the main line of the Henderson Route next year.

Death Claims John Hay.

Newbury, N. H., July 1.—Secretary of State John Hay died this morning. Secretary Hay had been in poor health for some time.

In the death of Mr. Hay the nation loses one of its greatest diplomats.

John Hay was born in Salem, Ind., October 5, 1838. In 1861 he went to Washington as one of President Lincoln's private secretaries, acting also as his aide-de-camp. He served under Generals Hooker and Burnside with the rank of major and adjutant general. He was subsequently in the United States diplomatic service and was stationed at various times at Paris, Vienna and Madrid.

In 1868, Hay was made secretary of state. He was reappointed as secretary of state by President Roosevelt and was serving in this capacity at the time of his death.

Mr. Hay was a literary man of considerable repute. His principal literary reputation rests on a book of poems called "Pike County Ballads," and a life of Abraham Lincoln. He wrote also a book of travel and other works.

Tribute for Blackburn.

DON'T BE HYPNOTISED,

Hoodwinked, hoodooed, or overpersuaded into accepting a position which did not fit you. Pierce's Favorite Prescription with its record of nearly 40 years, embracing hundreds of cases of men, women and animals. It is the only remedy for woman's ill-being by drugs, that is not full of "boozey"—poor things.

A guarantee of $1000 is offered that "any prescription" containing any of the above ingredients will bring him in any climate.

"Favorite Prescription" is a powerful liquor tonic, and imparts strength to the whole system and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For government, physicians, dentists, disabilitized teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nurses, and all respectable women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being a safe, reliable, open hearted and restorative tonic.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a doctor to prescribe off upon you an alcoholistic substitute for this world-famed medicine. You know what you want, and you know what you don't want. When he urges some substitute he's thinking of the larger profit he'll make in selling it.

TALE OF A SHIPWRECK.

Romantic Story of the Loss of the Steamer American.

The story of the loss of the steamer American, which plied between England and South Africa, reads like a chapter from Frank Stockton. Wednesday broke on the morning of April 23, 1880, the steamer was close to the equator and about 100 or 150 miles from the Liberian coast. Suddenly in the middle of the night, at 4 o'clock, there was a faint report in the engine room, followed by a cushion against the side of the ship, when an instant suggested that she struck on a rock. Half dressed passengers hurried on deck and discovered that the steamer had run aground. The captain and Mr. Hayworth, the chief officer, who assumed that it was merely a breakdown of some part of the machinery. The passengers returned to their cabins. The pre-drawn shaft had broken in the stern tube and had burst open the side of the ship. There was no hope of saving the steamer.

"I means the boats," Captain Wall remarked, "but she will float for a few hours yet, so we will get the passengers into the saloon and have breakfast served." This was promptly done and Captain Wall took his usual place ready. After breakfast Captain Wall mentioned in manner so cool as to be almost casual that the accident had damaged the ship's side a good deal and that the vessel would not be prepared for any emergency. The passengers, when they were ready, took their places in the boats. Quickly, but methodically and without the least hurry, the eight boats, which were provisioned and manned, were filled and were lowered over the side. Captain Wall left his ship and joined his crew and passengers. Very shortly after, about noon, the American was seen to sink.

Captain Wall divided his little flotilla into two sections. Of the first he himself took charge. Mr. Hayworth, second in command, took the other. The part of the sea where the American went down was, of course, in the immediate track of numbers of sailing ships and steamers, but as it was very close to the Liberian coast it was decided to make for the latter. During the night the two sections became separated. On the following day Captain Wall and two of his boats were picked up by a brig which took them to Grand Bassa and thence to Sierra Leone, where they were transferred to a steamer called the Senegal, then on her way to England. The Senegal, however, ran aground on her voyage home, was stranded on an island of the Grand Canaries so that some of the American's passengers had a second unpleasant experience before getting back to England. In the meantime Mr. Hayworth and his crew made for the Liberia coast, which they reached on the third day. In consequence of the surf, however, they found it impossible to land, so they headed out to sea again and two days later were picked up by a steamer called the Senegal and taken to Teneferry and from thence to Madeira and from there to England.

This left only the gig and the dingy to be accounted for. The former was hoisted on a few weeks, but when nearly twelve months had gone by and the eighth and smallest boat of them all had not been recovered, the search was feared. But in a year almost to a day from the date of the catastrophe came the news that the dingy, too, had been picked up within a few days of the accident by a sailing ship on her way to Australia. Thus it was many months before the intelligent could be conveyed to England—House Beautiful.

Charles Matthews and Mr. Tattersall, Charles Matthews, the famous English actor, once indulged disastrously in his well known taste for mystery. The rifle on this occasion was at the expense of Mr. Tattersall during a sale of bloodhounds conducted by that well known nutmeg.
